

Dear Parents and guardians,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to bring to your attention a matter of concern that has arisen within our school community. It has been reported that some students have been engaging in the sharing of inappropriate videos via their mobile phones and other digital devices.

As we navigate the digital age, it is crucial for parents and guardians to monitor their children's online activities closely. The internet can be a wonderful resource for learning and connection; however, it also poses risks that can impact our children's emotional and social development. We kindly ask that you take the time to discuss the importance of respectful and appropriate digital communication with your child, as well as to monitor their phone usage and online interactions.

In response to these incidents, our school will be conducting Personal, Social, Health, and Emotional (PHSE) lessons focused on internet safety and appropriate online behaviour. These lessons aim to empower students with the knowledge and skills necessary to navigate the digital world safely and responsibly. We believe that through open dialogue and education, we can foster a safer environment for our children.

We appreciate your cooperation and support in this important matter. Should you have any questions or require further information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Thank you for your attention to this crucial aspect of our children's wellbeing.

Yours sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'M Whitehouse', is positioned above the printed name.

Mandy Whitehouse

Headteacher