

Music at Tower View Primary School

Why learn a musical instrument?

It's fun

- It's rewarding in so many ways, from the feeling of success at learning a new skill to the joy of performing in front of an audience.
- Whether as a hobby or career, it offers new challenges and the chance to interact in ways other subjects don't

Improves Learning Skills

- Supports the development of literacy, numeracy and listening skills.

Fosters Teamwork

- Playing in groups promotes co-operation, responsibility, commitment and mutual support.
- A chance to meet new people and make friends.

Life Skills

- Improves problem solving skills and communication.
- Strengthens emotional intelligence and builds understanding.

Creativity

- It supports the use of imagination, allows a freedom of expression and gives the excitement of showing learned skills.

Music for life

- Opens the doors to a lifetime of learning and exploration through acquisition of skills, performing, listening and research.
